

User Agreement

Note: Users are reminded to carefully read this "User Agreement" (hereinafter referred to as the Agreement). By downloading, installing, and using the Software, you agree to be bound by the terms of this Agreement and acknowledge that you have read and understood it.

This Agreement is a legal contract between you (the "User") and REVOPOINT GLOBAL INC. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) regarding the installation, use, registration, and management of the Software (Revo Mirror), as well as the use of the relevant services provided by the Company. This Agreement outlines the rights and obligations of the Company and the User with respect to the licensed use of the Software and its associated services. The term "User" refers to any individual or organization that obtains a license for the Software through the Company's licensing and registration channels and uses relevant services provided by the Company.

The Company reserves the right to update this Agreement at any time. Updates to the Agreement will be communicated through announcements on the Company's website, within the software, and by other appropriate means. Upon notification, the updated Agreement will supersede all previous versions without further notice. Users can re-download and install the Software or review the latest version of the Agreement. After the Company updates the terms of the Agreement, if the User does not agree to the updated terms, the User must immediately discontinue use of the Software and related services. Continued use of the software and services after the update will be deemed acceptance of the updated Agreement.

Except as expressly stated in this Agreement, this Agreement does not govern any other services provided by the Company or its Partner Companies using the Software. Such services are subject to separate Terms of Service, which Users must read and agree to before using the services. If the other Terms of Service conflict with this Agreement, the separate Terms of Service shall prevail. If the User uses the service, it is considered an acceptance of the relevant Terms of Service.

1. Statement of Intellectual Property

1.1 This "Software" is developed and owned by the Company. All intellectual property rights, including but not limited to copyrights, trademarks, patents, trade secrets, and all information relating to the Software, including but not limited to text statements and their combinations, icons, graphics, charts, colors, interface design, layout frames, relevant data, printed materials, or electronic documents are protected by applicable intellectual property laws and regulations of Delaware. Except for software or technology licensed from third parties, all such intellectual property rights belong exclusively to the Company..

1.2 The Software may contain third-party open source components, which are subject to their respective open source licenses.

2. Scope of Software License

2.1 Users can install, use, display, and run the software.

2.2 Reserved Rights: All other rights not expressly authorized remain owned by the Company, and the use of other rights by Users requires additional written consent from the Company.

2.3 In addition to the provisions of this Agreement, this Agreement does not provide the Terms of Service for companies or partner companies accessing the Software, for which there may be separate Terms of Service. Users shall read and confirm the terms when using the relevant services.

3. Legal Liability and Exemption

3.1 The User acknowledges and agrees that this Software is intended solely for lawful purposes, and the User is obligated to comply with all applicable laws and regulations.

3.2 Notes: To safeguard the Company's right to business development and adjustment, the Company may modify or terminate the software license at any time. The modification or termination of the license will be announced on the Company's website and displayed within key areas of the Software, without separate notice.

3.3 If the User violates this Agreement or the applicable Terms of Service, resulting in any claim, demand, or loss asserted by a third party (including reasonable attorneys' fees), the User agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Company, its Partner Companies, and Affiliates from any such losses.

3.4 The use of the Software is at the User's sole risk. The Company and its Partner Companies make no warranties of any kind, whether expressly, impliedly, or as required by law. This includes, but is not limited to, warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, freedom from viruses, non-negligence, or the absence of technical defects. No warranties are provided regarding ownership or non-infringement of third-party rights. Under no circumstances shall the Company or its Partner Companies be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages arising out of or related to the use of, or inability to use, the Software.

3.5 If the Software incorporates third-party open-source software or components, the applicable licenses or related documentation will be provided either as attachments to this Agreement or included in the Software's installation package. These third-party agreements are considered an integral part of this Agreement and have the same legal effect as this Agreement. Users must comply with the terms outlined in those agreements. Use of such third-party open-source software or components is at the User's own risk. The Company and its Partner Companies make no warranties, express, implied, or statutory, regarding any third-party open-source software or components, including but not limited to warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, freedom from viruses, absence of negligence or technical defects, title, or non-infringement.

3.6 The use of the Software requires internet connectivity and may be affected by network instability during operation. The Company and the Partner Companies shall not be liable for the economic loss suffered by the user due to force majeure, computer viruses, hacking, system instability, illegal or harmful content, content filtering, or other internet-related issues. These include, but are not limited to, problems arising from network failure, technical issues, communication line disruptions, or information security management measures.

3.7 The Company and its Partner Companies shall not be liable for any loss suffered by the User due to a communication line failure, technical issues, network or computer malfunctions, system instability of a third party, and various other events classified as force majeure.

3.8 In the event that force majeure circumstances, such as technical failures, affect the normal operation of the service, the Company and its Partner Companies will make reasonable efforts to cooperate with the relevant parties to repair it. However, the Company and its Partner Companies shall not be liable for losses incurred by the User as a result of such events.

4. User Data Protection

4.1 The Company does not collect, store, or transmit any personal information. All functions of the Software operate locally on the User' s device and do not involve the collection, processing, or transmission of personal data.

4.2 During your use of this "Software," certain necessary information may be required to enable specific functions. For example, to establish network connections between devices, the Software may obtain your IP address, Wi-Fi information, and network connection status. If you choose not to provide this information, certain network-related functions of the Software may not function properly.

Important Notice: This information is used solely for the Software's functionality and will not be stored, analyzed, or used for any other purposes.

5. Other Provisions

5.1 If any provision of this Agreement is found to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part, such invalidity shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions of this Agreement.

5.2 This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware. In the event of any dispute between the User and the Company, the parties shall first attempt to resolve the matter through friendly consultation. If the consultation fails, the User agrees to submit the dispute to the jurisdiction of the court located in the city where the Company is located.

5.3 The copyright of this Agreement is owned by the Company, which reserves all rights to interpret and enforce its terms. The names of the Software and Services mentioned herein may be registered trademarks or trademarks of the Company and are protected by applicable law.
